magic and especially performance magic has been a part of crime fiction since its inception both art forms surged in popularity in western europe in the second half of the nineteenth century and influenced each other in profound ways this collection of essays provides an in depth look at this phenomenon and covers a variety of writers across multiple languages cultures and traditions as well as multiple subgenres victorian autobiography classic detective tales pulp fiction fantasy mystery etc from historical studies examining the rise in popularity of magician narratives in mystery and detective fiction to essays documenting the number of professional magicians who double as crime fiction writers to theoretical studies analyzing the narrative and functional overlap between illusion prestidigitation and literary criminals and detectives this collection of essays provides readers with a range of perspectives and approaches from a variety of scholarly backgrounds in 1994 the school of criminology a part of the department of criminal law criminal procedure and criminology in the faculty of law of the katholieke universiteit leuven celebrated the 25th anniversary of its study programme to give added lustre to this landmark in its history the institute accepted the invitation from the international society of criminology to organise the 49th international course of criminology the title of the course was changes in society crime and criminal justice in europe a challenge for criminological education and research this course explored two themes both of which are likely to be the focus of debate in criminal policy in the near future crime and insecurity in the city and international organised and corporate crime the presentation and discussion of both themes followed two main approaches lectures and seminars focused on the analysis of the nature the quantity and the development of the phenomena and meetings were focused on the policy needed to gain control of these phenomena moreover attention was paid to technical and ethical problems which show up at the moment that empirical research is carried out this publication brings together the main part of the introductory lectures part one relates to the theme of crime and insecurity in the city the second part contains the lectures on international organised and corporate crime together both parts present a good picture of what was explained and commented on during the course especially in relation to important european developments concerning crime criminal justice and criminal policy this book will become an important source of inspiration for both criminological education and research this book establishes the genealogy of a subgenre of crime fiction that antoine dechêne calls the metacognitive mystery tale it delineates a corpus of texts presenting unreadable mysteries which under the deceptively monolithic appearance of subverting traditional detective story conventions offer a multiplicity of motifs the overwhelming presence of chance the unfulfilled quest for knowledge the urban stroller lost in a labyrinthine text that generate a vast array of epistemological and ontological uncertainties analysing the works of a wide variety of authors including edgar allan poe jorge luis borges and henry james this book is vital reading for scholars of detective fiction the silent film era was known in part for its cliffhanger serials and air of suspense that kept audiences returning to theaters week after week icons such as douglas fairbanks laurel and hardy lon chaney and harry houdini were among those who graced the dark and shadowy screen this reference guide to silent films with mystery and detective content lists more than 1 500 titles in one of entertainment s most popular and enduring genres while most of the films examined are from north america mystery films from around the world are included
